When the Kidneys are Enfeebled the Whole System Becomes Deranged. Cornelia Vanderbilt Offered $3,000,000 for Former Residence of Marie Antoinette.

WEAK KIDNEYS.

Pain in small of back, painful passing of urine, inflammation of the bladder, torpid liver, cloudy urine, pains in the back of the head and neck, rheumatic pains and swellings all over the body, eczema and jaundice show that your kidneys are diseased.

CURES WEAK KIDNEYS.

"Gentlemen: I was troubled a great deal with kidney trouble, and my business compelling me to be on my feet all day, only made the pain worse in my kidneys. I was advised to try a bottle of Warner's Safe Cure. Well, I did, and the result is that I am now a new man. I can walk home from work, something I had not been able to do for years. I can honestly recommend 'Safe Cure'." MICHAEL E. SHANAHAN, 146 Bradford street, Albany, N. Y.

"Safe Cure" is a most valuable and effective tonic. It repairs the tissues, soothes inflammation and irritation, awakens the torpid liver, aids digestion, stimulates the enfeebled organs and heals at the same time.

"Safe Cure" is purely vegetable and contains no harmful drugs. It is free from sedative and is pleasant to take. You can say "Safe Cure" at any drug store or direct, for a bottle.

Be aware of so-called kidney cures which are full of sediment, and of bad odor—they are positively harmful and do not cure.

WARNER'S SAFE PILLS move the bowels gently and aid a speedy cure. Write Warner's Safe Cure Co., Rochester, N. Y., for free medical book.

If Headachy

No heart depressant or narcotic, but a brain clarifier and stimulant. It brings the liver and bowels into healthy action.

BITTER FEELING AGAINST AUTOS.

Members of Parliament Afraid to Trust Themselves to Speak on the Motor-Car Bill.

FEAR TO LOSE THEIR TEMPER.

Automobilism Denounced in Commons as the Invention of the Evil One, and Clergymen Ask for Its Suppression.

SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. London, Aug. 8.—(Copyright, 1903.)—King Edward, accompanied by the Queen, will come to London from Cowes on Monday to hold a council for the prorogation of Parliament.

Not excepting the Irish land purchase bill, which is now in its final stages, the measure before Parliament which is arousing most interest is the motor-car bill. Mr. Long, Secretary of Agriculture, has had to give way to the anti-automobilist section of the House in several particulars, most notably in the introduction of a speed limit of probably twenty-five miles an hour. Even with this concession, the chances of the bill being a law during this session are regarded to-day as not sure.

Discussion of the measure has excited more bitterness than any recent legislation. Members have almost forgotten the traditions of politeness of St. Stephen, and hitherto fast friends have come dangerously near turning into enemies. The placid composure of the House, the even tenor of whose parliamentary life is usually inspired by anything more exciting than the evening matters, has pushed to the front and bitterly denounced automobilism as an invention of the evil one.

The Daily Mail says such astonishing observations have been made by the better informed members of the House. A Cabinet Minister declared:

"We do not mind losing the bill, but it is painful to see such astonishing ignorance prevailing. It is a return to the early days of opposition to railways."

CRAMONIOUS DISCUSSION. Such was the intensity of feeling that many members could not trust themselves to speak or even to be in the House at all, and actually fled to their homes, lest they should lose control of their manners.

Public discussion of automobilism is growing more acrimonious than ever. A clergyman writes to the papers this morning advocating "the total abolition of all motors."

He cannot find language "half strong enough to express his detestation of these damnable engines of Satan."

An Oxford Justice of the Peace writes to the Times to take credit to himself and his colleagues on the bench for firing a large number of automobiles which he elegantly terms "road hogs."

He relates an incident of a railway trip where he overheard two young automobilists discussing the bill. One said: "One asked the other how much a certain automobile trip of about 200 miles had cost him his time."

He replied: "400." Then the first-trip of a recent run of his own in the north of England which had been still more expensive, involving loss of $10.

"Road hogs," and I felt certain it would give him a good lesson. He was certainly not a "road hog" without it, and it has such a strong ring of truth about it.

Westminster Gazette suggests that the old gentleman was being fooled to the top of his bent by his fellow passengers.

FARM MEMORIES

Come Back in Food.

How often a good appetite and a craving for good food will bring back memories of the farm. A mother says: "My oldest son, who has always had a weak stomach, was finally compelled to give up his position."

"I thought I could nurse him back to health with my own milk. I gave him a bottle of Grape-Nuts and he was cured. He is now a strong, healthy man, and I feel certain it would give him a good lesson."

He was certainly not a "road hog" without it, and it has such a strong ring of truth about it.

ENGLISH BISHOP CRITICIZED FOR USING THE CROZIER.

SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. London, Aug. 8.—(Copyright, 1903.)—Doctor Chavasse, Bishop of Liverpool, is getting into trouble for the use of the Crozier. The English Churchman, which had an article saying that the bishop's staff, the crozier, indeed, goes in its derivation, adds: "The Doctor Chavasse was a High Churchman, something might be said in excuse for his weakness, but an Evangelical Protestant Bishop to accept and use such a useless bauble, which can only minister to Episcopal vanity, is deplorable."

DISTINGUISHED AMERICANS ARE SEEN AT ST. MORITZ.

SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. St. Moritz, Aug. 8.—(Copyright, 1903.)—St. Moritz continues to grow in fashionable favor in spite of the fact that the new railroad from Thun to St. Moritz is having the effect disagreeable to old-timers of filling all the hotels with trippers. Distinguished Americans, though, are not wanting. Mr. Clyde Fish has just left for a carriage tour in Germany.

General Draper, former Ambassador to Rome, and Mrs. Draper, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Haywood are here, to mention but a few.

HEIRS DELAYED ACCEPTANCE.

Finally Patron of Splendid Scheme Was Obligated to Leave Paris and Drop All Negotiations—Paris News.

SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. Paris, Aug. 8.—(Copyright, 1903.)—The desire to establish what might have been one of the finest art schools in Paris, and exclusively American to boot, has just fallen through owing to procrastination on the part of the owners of the Chateau de la Muette. This scheme was formulated by Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, who offered the heirs to the property (once the residence of Marie Antoinette) $1,000,000 francs.

The Comte de Franqueville, descendant of Sebastian Erard, replied that an offer of $1,000,000 francs would be considered. Mr. Vanderbilt refused to make up the difference and the other side was stubborn. They, however, reconsidered the offer, but days passed without a definite action being arrived at, and Mr. Vanderbilt, who was to be received by the Emperor of Germany, was obliged to leave for Marseilles. Thus the matter has fallen through, and it is probable that this beautiful chateau and park will pass into the hands of the builder.

A spectacle was furnished this week of a number of prominent automobilists and journalists tarring roads in the environs of Paris, in the presence of M. Forester, Inspector General of Roads and Bridges. This was merely to give a practical demonstration of how easy it is to combat the dust.

M. Forester was then taken on a tour of inspection of the road tarring last year. All were found in splendid condition. The cost of tarring is only four sous a square meter, and the road thus treated retains its surface almost indefinitely.

In October M. Jean Richepin, the celebrated writer and poet, author of "Mme. Du Barry," will visit America to give a series of lectures and superintend the rehearsals of his play. He will visit New York, Washington, Chicago, San Francisco and St. Louis.

Miss Marbury has organized the tour. M. Richepin will be accompanied by his wife, famous for her grace and beauty, and by his two children.

The discovery that a plant called ecumum virgatum, of Great Britain, is destructive to mosquitoes, has caused much discussion among scientists, but till now no one was aware that the sweet basil plant, common in the South of France, Spain and Italy, is equally destructive.

Mr. Charles Raymond, the dramatic author, writes to the Journal, stating that during a visit to Venice he obtained complete protection by putting posts containing the plant along the window sill, as not one mosquito passed through.

M. Torres Broughton took before the Academy of Sciences a new invention by which an electric motor can be controlled at a distance.

It is an application of wireless telegraphy allowing the steering of boats, airplanes and especially torpedoes without the presence of a man on board being necessary. The apparatus for the experiments has been constructed in the Sorbonne Mechanical Laboratory.

Much sympathy has been displayed with M. Santos-Dumont, who is suffering from a slight attack of fever, which his physicians attribute to overwork. Since the news of his illness was published there has been a constant stream of inquirers at his residence in the Avenue Champs Elysees. Many of the callers have been laden with flowers, fruit, jellies and other delicacies supposed to tempt feverish appetites, while his secretary has been kept busy all day acknowledging letters and telegrams from prominent Parisians now at the seaside or mountain resorts.

Philatelists will shortly have a chance to add considerably to their collections, as the French Government has decided to introduce a special stamp for each colony, instead of having, as hitherto, a single stamp for the colonial service. Each stamp will be ornamented with a characteristic design which has hitherto existed. The first has already been issued for Somaliland.

M. Joubert, head of the St. Jacques Observatory, generally is very talkative about the weather, but when interviewed about the beginning of the month on the weather, said he was sorry that he could not give information, being much absorbed by family complications. His wife had just brought him twins, who have been called Camille and Pierre. All his children are named after stars, the others having the names of Uranus, Jupiter, Saturn, and a little 6-year-old daughter Venus.

AMBASSADOR CHOATE VISITS LORD BATTERSEA.

SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. London, Aug. 8.—(Copyright, 1903.)—Mr. and Mrs. Cavendish Bentinck are settled in Highgate Castle and are beginning to have their usual guests. Lord and Lady Battersea, Mr. and Mrs. George Keppel and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur James were among their guests.

The American Ambassador and Mrs. and Miss Choate have gone this week on a visit to the Queen's Hotel. The Choates gave a dinner for Senator Lodge. So did Mr. and Mrs. Henry White before their departure for the Continent.

Mr. Choate is not left without assistants, for Mr. Hildegarde E. Carter will be in town for the next few weeks, except for a few days' shooting, and Mr. Craig Wadsworth is also stopping in London.

Thanks Arrangement With Cunard Line Given Credit for Practical Control of Steamship Trust.

SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC. London, Aug. 8.—(Copyright, 1903.)—The English newspapers was quite enthusiastic over conditions in Atlantic commerce introduced by the arrangements made by the British Government with the Cunard Company and the International Mercantile Marine Company.

One paper says the favorable moment when the Atlantic combine appears to have sprung a leak was chosen by the Government for the arrangement with the Cunard Line.

Another thinks the agreement between the Government and the American shipping trust gives the British all the control of operations of the latter that can be legitimately expected, saying:

"It may even excite some surprise that the American partners in the association should have consented to place themselves so completely at the discretion of the Government of this country; but, in the first place, they can't help themselves, for if they had proved recalcitrant they might have found other companies besides the Cunard being assisted so largely as to render competition with them hopeless. Secondly, the financial prospects of the Atlantic trust are not so good that they can afford to dispense with the Post Office and Admiralty subsidies."

"There is an even possibility, some observers believe, that before the expiration of the twenty years which the agreement covers the association will have fallen to pieces from inability to earn a satisfactory profit on its large capital."

The fact that Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan's name does not appear among the signatures to the agreement with the Admiralty causes a London correspondent to exclaim: "The modesty of Pierpont Morgan is unenviable. The agreement in question winds up with a magnificent display of names every one who is any one in the great trust. No where is the name of Pierpont Morgan. The hand is the hand of 'Bruce Imray,
